Reverend Richard A. Emerson

My Dear Parishioners:

One of the greatest challenges we face in our society today is the challenge to build relationships with one another in the context of a community of love. Love challenges us to be mindful of one another, to care deeply for each person as a precious gift from God. These words might sound very familiar to you. You might even say to yourself, "Of course, that goes without saying." But the problem with familiar words is that sometimes we don't stop to reflect on the reality of the world that exists outside of the words or the preconceived notion that we are fulfilling those words. The challenge of building community is based on our recognition of each other and our willingness to get to know each other. We might ask ourselves as we look around the congregation the next time we go to Mass, "How many of the faces around me (and they're often the same ones every week) can I put a name to?" I see these same individuals every Sunday, and often in the supermarket and at the playground, but I don't know their names and I don't know any more about them than I see them all the time but have never taken the opportunity to really get to know who they are. This is not community. Simply being in the same place with someone is not being in relationship with them.

The same can now be said for our neighborhoods. Many people in our town do not know who their neighbors are. We don't go for a visit across the street, nor do we often welcome a newcomer to our block. We "mind our own business" and tend to our own concerns. This isolation continues to build up barriers and prevents us from becoming the kind of Christian in the world that Our Lord hopes for us to be. In isolation we lose respect for one another and ultimately we lose our true respect for the God who created us. If we lose that respect then, ultimately, we really don't know who we are ourselves, either.

This pictorial directory is an attempt on the part of our parish community to "put names on faces." It gives us the opportunity to take the first step in seeing who all those people are whom we see so often but do not really recognize. I hope that all of you will take the time to look up those familiar faces without names so that you can say, "Hello, Bill, Hello, Nancy," instead of just a nameless greeting. Use this as an opportunity to celebrate the dignity of all of these wonderful servants of God who are your brothers and sisters in the community of our parish family. We use those words, "brother, sister, family" but we now have an opportunity to give greater meaning to those words by proclaiming that we have brothers and sisters and a family who have not only faces but names as well. These are people of real substance who belong to me as I belong to them.

May God continue to bless all of you,

Fr. Rich Emerson

The mission of the Religious Formation Program is to fulfill the promise that the Church makes at every Baptism: to support and instruct the baptized and to foster their growth in faith. The catechists proclaim Christ's message and strive to develop community, to lead children and parents to worship, and to motivate them to serve others for the sake of the Kingdom of God.

The mission of St. Thomas More School is to build a strong religious, academic, and moral foundation for our students.
